Jews-harp	One of the Xhosa women who previously played on the umrubhe mouth-bow later brought a European-made metal jews-harp out of her hut and played this lively piece as an encore. The technique of mouth-resonance required is very similar to that used with the mouth-bow, although the jews-harp produces only one, low-pitched fundamental. Partial 6 to 12 of this fundamental were used in this piece and in-and out-breathing was used for 'punctuation'.
