

CONTENU SONORE

Instruments-Chant: Foresinger: Einar Jacobsen	Forme d'expression: Harra Paetur has to make a long voyage before he can marry his fiancée. He asks her to wait for him, and she promises to wait for seven years. But since Harra Paetur has not returned to her after 7 years, Elinborg decides to go by boat and find him. She asks her brother to assist her on the voyage, but since it is not well thought of that women go on a voyage, he does not agree at once. She is offended, gathers all her friends, and after they have cut their hair, dressed in mens clothes and learnt the Danish language, they sail to Denmark. After a long voyage in bad weather they come to Harra Paetur's house, where he lives with another wife.
Noté par:	TEXTE But when he reckognized Elinborg, he went away with her. They got married, while the Traduit par: Danish wife Ingibjorg had to stay behind . - The ballad is often used at weddings.
Langue d'origine:	Traduction:

Observations: