

CONTENU SONORE

Instruments-Chant: Foresinger: Eli Holm	Forme d'expression: Jákup á Møn, son of well-off parents, is going to make a proposal to a girl. He is very well dressed and good looking, when he goes, but before he reaches the house he falls in a manure heap, and is very clumsy when he enters the house, so he does not get the girl. He has to return home again, but is also mocked by all the girls, who build a fire, and when the smoke is seen in the neighbouring village, it is believed that this is the sign from the other village that they have seen a 'grind' (whales), so the men take their boat and go to the village to ask where the 'grind' is, but when they come they only meet Jákup á Møn, and in this way he comes home again.
---	---

TEXTE

Noté par:	Traduit par:
Langue d'origine:	Traduction:

Observations:
