

CONTENU SONORE

Instruments-Chant: Foresinger: Sigmundur í Hoyvík and Ingibjörg í Hoyvík	Forme d'expression: A magic story about Fipan fagra, a young girl watching a field. While sitting there sawing while she is watching, a young man Eirikur comes along talks to her, and says that he will release her and take her home with him, when he comes back. The girl wants to go home but cannot move, she is then taken by a giant, and carried on board on his ship and later to his home in the mountains, but the giants mother releases her, she then comes to the kings hall, just before Eirikur is going to marry another girl. When he recognized the girl Fipan fagra he remembered his promise, and marries her.
--	---

TEXTE

Noté par:	Traduit par:
Langue d'origine:	Traduction:

Observations: