	Their song describes Shiva, lord of destruction: In his hair the Ganges plays and seated on his lap the White-Goddess caresses him. Holding in his hand the garland of skulls day and night he drinks the cup of poison (Hashish). His drum roaring "dama, dama " and seated on his lap the White-Goddess caresses him Wearing at his waist the skin of a beast, a scorpion tied as an armlet this merciless youth spends his life, and seated on his lap the White-Godess caresses him.. Singing the virtues of the Teacher and counting hardships shall be your daily consolation meditating on the Mountain's Goddess and on his lap the White-Godess plays the White-Godess caresses him.
